Plans Being Made

For Presentation of Government's "A" Award To
Lafayette Packing
Company

The Lafayette Packing Company of Rockland, Maine, joined the nation's leaders in wartime food processing with the awarding of the Achievement "A" of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, announced recently in this paper by Norman C. Fitzpatrick, State Director of the U.S.D.A.'s Office of Supply.

The firm has met the high standards required of all winners of this coveted award, says Fitzpatrick, pointing out that the production of the plant has been large in spite of wartime difficulties and that relations between employees and managements have been excellent. With the set-aside of canned fish in effect, this firm has played an outstanding part in providing processed fish for government account.

Due to the large requirements of the armed forces for processed fish, the operation of this plant has been especially important in meeting a war need. The "A" award of the U. S. Department of Agriculture correspond exactly to the wartime "E" award granted by Army and Navy to outstanding manufacturers of ordnance and other essentials of war.

Plans for a ceremony, in which the firm will receive the "A" award flag, are now being made with Jacob S. Knafou, says Mr. Fitzpatrick. In this program the flag will be presented to the management of the firm by a ranking officer of the Army or Navy, and the employees of the firm will be presented with "A" award pins by Mr. Fitzpatrick.

Vinalhaven Peeved

Then Rolled Up Sleeves and
Did a Great Job With 7th
War Loan

The Town of Vinalhaven, never before able to fulfill its quota of War Bonds sales in any previous drive, finally got a bit peeved, rolled up its sleeves, spit on its hands and said "By chowder, this time we're goin' to do it."

And the War Finance Committee of the town, from Chairman O. V. Drew down to the humblest worker, is glad to announce that in the 7th War Loan Drive, Vinalhaven amassed a grand total sales of $46,950, exceeding its quota of $30,000 by $16,950. It also exceeded its "E" Bond quota of $12,000 by $9950, selling a total of $21,950 worth of E Bonds in the drive.

Although in all previous drives the percentage of E bond sales had been high, the Town had never been able to reach its quota in total sales, but in the "Mighty 7th" by a combination of large blocks of sales of P and G Bonds together with a campaign by mail and a house to house canvass by members of the local War Finance Committee, the goal was reached three weeks before the end of the drive. Typical of the support given by Vinalhavenites was the letter of Mrs. Carrie Paige, 108 C St. S. E., Washington, D. C., who wrote—

"Just to let you know how much I wanted to have some bonds bought in Vinalhaven I will tell you that I went 10 blocks to a Post Office, and stood in line in front of a money order window until the persons in front of me were served, and then went to the trouble and expense of getting a money order, when I can buy War Bonds right in the office where I work, without leaving my desk."

It is appreciation of that spirit that prompts the Vinalhaven War Finance Committee to express its thanks and appreciation to those who so splendidly co-operated in this most important work. Citations are in order for some of the Committee and will be issued by the Maine War Finance Committee in the near future.

Figures given above are not final and may have to be revised upward as returns come in from headquarters.

District Nursing Ass'n Plans
For The Future, Rev. E. O.
Kenyon New President

Rev. E. O. Kenyon who will carry the torch for the District Nursing Association.

Rev. Ernest O. Kenyon was elected president of the Rockland District Nursing Association at the annual meeting held Wednesday. Rev. Alfred G. Hempstead was chosen vice president, A. Alan Grossman secretary, and Lendon C. Jackson, Jr., treasurer. Mr. Hempstead and Supt. of Schools Robert B. Lunt were added to the board of trustees.

Public Health Nurse Eliza J. Steele made her report, which proved again the vast amount of work essential to this community done by this highly important welfare organization. Her complete report will appear in these columns in due time.

With the end of the European war it seems time that the work will be broadened and tentative plans are in the making for the addition of a second nurse to aid Miss Steele and to free her from routine duties so her long experience in local welfare work may be used to greater advantage.

H. P. Blodgett is laying plans for the approaching financial campaign and Alan F. McAlary and John M. Richardson are studying the broadening of the base for the board of trustees. The venerable association automobile is nearing the end of its usefulness and that presents a problem. A rising vote of appreciation was accorded Miss Steele for the extraordinary efficiency and understanding she gives to her arduous work.

The Rockland District Nursing Association was organized in 1940 by John M. Richardson to take up the public nursing service which Knox County Chapter American Red Cross was forced to abandon at that time. For the duration the association has operated with hard boiled simplicity and a minimum of expense for the care of vital needs in the association's field. Mr. Richardson as president, W. J. Sullivan as vice president, Donald C. Leach as treasurer, and Allston E. Smith as secretary, served from the first.

Queen Of The Fleet

Rockland's Eugene H. Is High
Line Among All Draggers
Out Of Gloucester

A Rockland dragger, the Eugene H., owned by Rhama E. Philbrick and captained by James N. Tucker, wears a broomstick at masthead because she is high line for 1945 in all the huge Gloucester fleet of red fish draggers according to the Gloucesters (News of June 30).

The Eugene H. brought in 1,175,000 pounds of red fish in 16 trips from Jan. 1 to June 30 of this year. Her nearest competitor was the Gaetano S., nearly twice her size, which landed 1,150,000 pounds.

The Eugene H. named for E. H. Philbrick, one of the most valued contributors to this newspaper, was launched June 7 of last year from the yard of Newbert & Wallace in Thomaston. She is 78 feet long, driven with a 180-horse-power Diesel engine and is very fast as her record of 16 trips proves.

"Fourth Stagers"

Wardens Liberate 50,000 Of Them At Rockland and

Merle F. Dobbins, Sea and Shore Fisheries warden, said today that 50,000 fourth stage lobsters had been taken from the rearing station at Boothbay Harbor and liberated in the Rockland and Friendship areas under direction of Commissioner Arthur R. Greenleaf and Supervisor, Frank G. Hallowell, assisted by Wardens Davis, Dobbins and McLaughlin.

These lobsters at the fourth stage have their complete natural forms and facilities and will go to the bottom of the ocean to live and become a full grown lobster. About five years is required for them to become legal lobsters.

Dobbins said that a single lobster lays thousands of eggs a year, but in its natural state only a few of these survive to reach maturity, therefore through methods utilized by the rearing station this percentage is increased many times, and when brought along to a reasonable stage of maturity are replanted along the coast.

Many Florists Here

Held Interesting Sessions At
The Thorndike — G. H.
Minott of Portland New Chairman

George H. Minott of Portland was elected chairman of the Maine Unit of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association at a meeting held at the Thorndike Hotel yesterday afternoon and evening. Other officers elected were Lloyd Hathaway of Bangor, vice chairman, and Lloyd E. Clark of Rockland, secretary and treasurer. The district representative, commencing his second year of a two-year term, is Neil Raymond of Ellsworth.

A floral art clinic was the principal feature of the meeting. This was conducted by Erwin J. Hamme, internationally known floral artist, who said in the course of his talk, "More flowers are being sent by wire today than at any time in the history of the industry, and flower appreciation is growing in every part of the country." Mr. Hamme demonstrated wartime flower arrangements, including bridal bouquets, funeral arrangements and corsages.

"Compact, streamlined bouquets to fit the modern bride are the style today," he said, presenting much helpful information concerning not only the bridal bouquets and corsages, but the floral decorations necessary to enhance the beauty of the wedding ceremony. "Maine florists, like those throughout the entire country are faced with the difficulty of meeting the greatly increased demand coming from civilians and men and women of the armed services." Mr. Hamme told his audience.

Lloyd E. Clark of Rockland made the arrangements for the meeting, which included a dinner between sessions. William Holbrook of Dorchester, Mass., New England director of the association was present, assisting in the demonstration.

Fourteen florists from the State were represented in the attendance of 50 persons. They were: Patterson's Flower Shop, Augusta; Bangor Floral Company and Bangor Nursery Flower Shop, Bangor; M. A. Clark, Inc., Ellsworth; Cross' Flowers, Gardiner; Jannis' Flower Shop, Lewiston; George H. Melon and J. W. Minnott Company, Portland; Clark's Flower Shop and Silsby's Flower Shop, Rockland; Bucknam's Greenhouses and Harris' Greenhouse, Skowhegan; Dow's Greenhouse, Westbrook and Maplehurst Greenhouse, Winslow.

Some men have greatness thrust upon them. Such was the fate of Captain Elmer Ingalls of the Maine State Prison Staff in a recent issue, when in announcing his address before the men of St. Peter's Church next Tuesday night, he was referred to as "Deputy Warden." Apologies were promptly made to Deputy Rowell and Captain Ingalls.

Rockland Lions

No Speaker, But Matters Of Interest At Wednesday's Meeting

After two weeks' absence from their regular den, due to ladies' night and Independence Day the Rockland Lions were back in their lair Wednesday to find that the entertainment committee had slipped up on the matter of speaker.

Past King Lion Wilbur Senter swung into the breach, as he always does, and the roars were regaled with several films of his motion pictures.

Past King Lion Frank H. Ingraham was present after several weeks' lay-off on account of ill health, and received the greeting due a popular, hard-working member.

Ellery Nelson, the new member, drew a seat at the famous Rough Neck table, which well qualified him for the ordeal of initiation at the next meeting.

Rev. William E. Berger of the Camden-Rockport Club was also present after a considerable absence.

Jesse Rosenberg of New York was the guest of Lion Nate Berliagowsky. Some of the older members recalled when he graduated from Rockland High School as valedictorian. He is now a successful attorney in the big burg, but always glad to get back home for a breathing spell.

Lion Josh Southard was having a birthday (not his 75th, as Earl would have had you believe). The customary song was sung, and the modest Josh was forced into a bit of speechifying. The Rockport native told of his younger days spent in Rockport, and of what a busy place "Goose River" was at that time, what with its lime, ice and fish industries, Rockport in those days was a port of entry "from the Maritime Provinces."

The Black Cat

(By The Roving Reporter)

Remember that old time song which was so popular on the street, perhaps 40 years ago—"Shall We Ever Be Able to Fly?" If the author is still living he has long since recognized the affirmativeness of the answer.

The soldier who tried vainly for an hour to hitchhike a ride solved the problem by displaying a carton of cigarettes. The effect was magical. And if this plan isn't adopted by political campaigners I shall miss my guess.

"The Ark was quite a craft," remarked a local statistician, who has been doing some "figgering." It was, he says, 450 feet long, 75 feet wide, 45 feet deep and registered 15,186½ tons. Two horse-power.

Four large strawberries grown together on a single stem furnish one of the season's early freaks. My thanks go to Mrs. A. B. Allen who contributed it.

Is the custom of wearing one's shirt-tail on the outside of his pantaloons merely a fad, a war casualty or (horror!) just plain laziness?

In one of K. S. F.'s book reviews, published in another column, she notes that Gen. Henry Knox was referred to as "the old General," although he was but 56 at the time of his death. Calling somebody else "old" is a curious habit we all fall into. What member of the Supreme Court or Superior Court was ever referred to by any other term than "the old Judge?"

My thanks go to Ray Stewart for a copy of the Circus Magazine, issued by Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey, whose wonderful show I used to see in several of Maine's largest cities. Barnum's Circus exhibited in Rockland ever so many years ago, and it never rained harder, greatly to the disgust of "us kids," who had waited seven weeks to see it. That was in the days of Jumbo, the world's largest elephant. I notice from the magazine that the total length of the train required to move the big circus is nearly a mile and a half; that 41 tents are required; that 75,000 yards of fire-resistant canvas are used; that the "big top" weighs 18 tons when dry; that over four miles of cable must be laid daily to carry the electric current; that the Ringling-Barnum show never splits up to show in the smaller cities.

One year ago, Elmer S. Bird of Washington was nominated for Representative to Legislature, succeeding D. M. C. Stephenson, who had resigned because of his removal from the district.—Marguerite Chapter, O.E.S. of Vinalhaven observed its 50th anniversary.—Henry F. York was found dead in his boat at Spruce Head. His death was due to a heart attack.—Mrs. Henry Moody died at the age of 40 years.

K. S. F.

"Maine Sources In The House Of The Seven Gables," by Thomas Morgan Griffiths, Maine State Historian. Published by Southworth Anthosens Press, Portland.

With infinite skill and rare perseverance for facts, this history has brought together in historical relation to the time when Nathaniel Hawthorne visited Montpellier in 1837 with his friend Jonathan Cilley of Rockland. Hawthorne already knew the story of the great estate, and Gen. Knox's claim to the Waldo Patent. From great enthusiasm inborn by this visit, Hawthorne was led to the Knox estate as the Shadow Pyncheon claims to vast lands of the east and thus the story is told in his novel "The House Of Seven Gables," in Salem, Mass. To quote from Prof. Griffiths "It was Hawthorne's studied opinion that each owner of these estates hoped to establish an English baronial manor on which his family might live in feudal splendor, supported by the rent furnished by tenant farmers."

It might be cause for a smile to record this point, the General was 56 years old when he died, but is referred to several times as the "Old General."

Prof. Griffiths has certainly given in this book of 50 pages a clearly defined similarity in characters, to warrant absolutely that Nathaniel Hawthorne used the family of Major Gen. Henry Knox's wife as the prototype for the family of Col. Pyncheon; and the Waldo patent and land estates as the lands described, with Hawthorne's own acknowledgment that the plan was built from pure fiction.

Readers will be deeply intrigued with Prof. Griffiths' skill in his close research and proof of similarities.

"The Brick Foxhole," by Richard Brooks, Published by Harper & Brothers, New York.

The question in mind is, as I read this slashing and decidedly shocking tale of the soldiers of our country, Is this worth while? To feed the world with devastating stuff which may tinge thoughts with a sour smell and tipsy condition.

It may be worth while, just now in the jittery undressed and inviting manner women display themselves to lonely service men, to bring before the world the emotional and confused existence our men face; the utterly devastating condition of soldiers' needs at this period of, "If We Live."

Bitter frustrations have come to many heroes in this war from conditions at home; and this is the full point of "The Brick Foxhole," written in a courageous straight and not pleasant but powerful style, this author has at the nub of his pen. Our world needs a good housecleaning, one finds by reading of this period of the affairs which we face today. We need a jolt to awaken us. Possibly this book may do good where good is needed.

USS, Cony D.D. 508, June 28 Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—Received a surprise today, the good old Courier-Gazette finally reached me thanks to my wife and you folks. I had given up hope of getting it, almost. It's just like a letter from home.

I'm on a "can" as we fellows call these ships in the Navy, a Bath built job and she is a good ship, one of the best out here, and has one of the best records for a "can" also.

Probably some of the fellows in and around Rockland worked on her, if they did they should be proud of the workmanship they put into her. She has been through a lot in two years of service and still is a better ship than any that are built on the West Coast, or in any other yard for that matter. You

[EDITORIAL]

TREADING DANGEROUS GROUND

The American Institute of Public Opinion has injected into public debate the rather ticklish question of whether the United States or Russia will have the more influence in world affairs after the war. An international poll conducted in France, Canada, Sweden and Denmark shows a sizeable majority in favor of this country, the only close result being found in France where 43 percent declared for the United States and 41 percent for Russia. The ratio in the other three countries was: Canada 36 and 24; Sweden, 50 and 21; Denmark, 21 and 19. England ran a poor third, but in the case of Denmark there was a percentage of 12 for "United States and England," in addition to the 21 percent which had declared for the United States. That this country should rule a favorite in Europe, especially, is perhaps surprising, for after the first World War, Uncle Sam not only failed to get the credit which belonged to him for helping win the war, but came back home quite the reverse of popular. But the old saying that "comparisons are odious," certainly applies with full force to this case. We like Dr. Gallop's investigations, but when it comes to stirring up any needless feeling between United States and Russia our advice is "Hands off."

AND WE MADE A HERO OF HIM

Emotional hero worship gets another setback in the case of Pvt. Joseph McGee of Worcester, Mass., who was released from a guardhouse, where he had been serving for Nazi-slapping, only to fall upon evil ways. Tuesday he was sentenced by a court martial to six months at hard labor on charges of being away without leave, drunkenness in uniform in a public place and false swearing to an affidavit. Three military police testified that he was obviously drunk and that he resisted arrest. Maj. Leon A. McCarthy, post adjutant, testified that McGee admitted in a sworn statement that he had a record of 13 court martial convictions before coming to Devens on charges ranging from being away without leave to drunkenness, fighting, disrespect to a superior officer, using a halfruck illegally, and slapping Nazi prisoners in France.

SEEMS IF IT MIGHT BE DONE

Industrial conditions and inability to obtain the necessary priorities are all that prevent the immediate construction of the Farnsworth Memorial, but some day the war is going to be over, and the sound of ham-fists will inform the public that this notable improvement to Main street is under way. Meantime it is to be regretted that the space between Main street and the Farnsworth residence cannot be put to better use than the growing of weeds, and serving as a by-path. The suggestion comes to us—and it is one which seems to merit attention—that the space be cleared and attractive seats be placed there for the convenience of Summer visitors and out of town persons who come here for shopping reasons. Rockland has never had a real resting place for visitors—unless we include Tillson's fence on which some of us used to sit surreptitiously.

CAN THE JAPS OUTLAST A YEAR?

The Japs, so we are told, consider it more honorable to commit suicide than surrender, but many thousands of them do not appear to have the opportunity of doing either. So terrific is the onslaught which the Yanks are waging upon the Nipponese that it is almost beyond understanding how the brown savages can stand up under the blows. If the war with Japan is in progress one year hence we shall be very much surprised. That it may last two, three or five years longer sounds to us like so much bosh. Japan would have nothing left to fight with—or for.

IN SPITE OF THE CROAKERS

A one-armed outfielder and a one-legged pitcher, both making good, are two of the colorful reasons why major league baseball is attracting such large crowds this season. Dependent upon veterans and youngsters the league races are both proving highly successful, despite the pre-season prophecies of the wise guy croakers. Half of the teams in each league have a fighting chance of winning the pennant.

"WHERE THERE'S A WILL"

The courage and determination shown by some of the wounded men returning from overseas is well illustrated in the case of Master Sgt. Frederic Hensel, a Kentuckian, who lost both arms and both legs. He smiled when greeted by newsmen, and announced his intention of starting a chicken farm.

TWO TERMS ARE ENOUGH

We like the timing of the proposal by Joseph W. Martin, House minority leader, to limit Presidential tenure to two terms. It is put forward when there is no chance of its being used as a weapon to hit any particular person or party. It should be possible this time to get a thoroughgoing and unbiased discussion of the two-term limit which up to 1940 operated as a tradition with almost the force of a Constitutional provision.

To us it seems that recent experience reinforces the wisdom of the tradition. The cruder fears of the Founding Fathers—seizure of dictatorial power—were not realized. They are: dependence of the people on one personality, retarded development of other leaders, power to dictate renomination, and a frayed administrative broom. Will not those who thought that any change would be "impossible" recognize now that one has been achieved without disaster? Observers in Washington are saying that the Charter will have less opposition than if Mr. Roosevelt had submitted it. And there is wide agreement that the administrative machinery has been tightened and coordinated by Mr. Truman.

To say that changes could not have been wrought so smoothly had there been a change of party and policy is only to say that voters should choose policies, not personalities. We like the new feature in Mr. Martin's proposal, too—the plan to retain the services of Presidents by giving them a seat in Congress. We hope this whole proposal will be seriously pressed as a Constitutional Amendment. —Christian Science Monitor.

WORKING FOR VICTORY

Gulftown Army Air Field, Miss.—It is announced by the Commanding Officer of this combat crew training station for Superfortresses that Ralph E. Staples has been promoted from the rank of Pfc to the rank of Sgt.

Before entering the Army Sgt. Staples attended Rockport High School. He has been in the Army since August 1944 and is now serving as a Gunner. His home is at Russell avenue, Rockport.

Sheephead Bay, N. Y.—Now in training at the U. S. Marine Service Training Station, Sheephead Bay, N. Y. is Clifton E. Hunt, 18, of 114 Broadway, Rockland. Before enrolling he was a student.

Apprentice Seaman Hunt will receive six weeks of basic training, including lifeboat work, fire fighting, breeches buoy, mess, sea rules and traditions, swimming, ship construction and equipment, gunnery and physical training.

After completing "boot" training he may enter deck or engine training, including three weeks of practical experience aboard a training ship at sea, or he may apply for one of the specialized schools of training.

Sgt. John D. Robbins of the U.S.A.M.P. Abbott Boston is now instructor of swimming classes at Ft. Banks. Sgt. Robbins will teach officers and enlisted men at this school. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert L. Robbins, 28 Water street, Rockland.

First Lieut. Archie Ray Chase, Btry C, 749th A.A.A. Gun Bn, of Rockland, is a collector of pistols and other firearms, according to a letter received by his father, Leo G. Chase of 249 Thomaston street.

Lieut. Chase has seen several years of army service, having been connected with the State Guard several years, before entering the regular service. He was a 1st Sergeant when he went from Rockland with the 240th C.A.C. in 1939.

He wrote in part, from Wiesbaden, Germany, June 17, 1945: "I have a nice pistol that I picked up the other day and will bring it home to you, for I can't send it, as you probably know it is impossible. Don't know what I will be doing here for it is a new assignment and I haven't been told a d— thing as yet." Lieut. Chase wrote his father, a busy man with the Railway Express Agency and the Maine Central Railroad Company, that he had sent him some time ago, "a 1743 rifle, and engraved," but it has not been received as yet.

Harold H. Payson of Owl's Head, son of Mrs. Ethel M. Payson, who has enlisted in the U. S. Naval Reserve, is training at Sampson, N. Y.

Word has been received from Pvt. Robert Robbins of Rockland, who is serving with the 6th Marine Division. He has seen action on Okinawa and has sent home some Japanese money as souvenirs. Pvt. Robbins enlisted in May, 1944, and has been overseas two months. His brother, Pfc. William R. Robbins, has been overseas one year and ten months.

Miami, Fla.—Four Maine veterans finally lived the day they've dreamed of many months, when they clambered down onto native American soil at Miami Army Air Field after fast flights from overseas on Air Transport Command's "Sky-Train."

Part of the 50,000 men ASC is flying home every month under the Army's redeployment program, they were enroute again—by train—with in 24 hours, for Camp Blanding, Florida. From Blanding they will be sent to centers nearer their homes for separation from service or furloughs before reporting for new assignments.

Lieut. Commander Allan C. Lindsey reported back to duty, July 5 after being ill in a hospital in France for two months, and home four. Mrs. Lindsey and son Charles met him in New York, March 21 and since that time he has been home on sick leave, and receiving treatment at The Lahey Clinic in Boston. But he is feeling okay again now, and returned to New York to take up his duties again.

Before leaving, he had the pleasure of welcoming his son, Arnold M. Lindsey, QM3c, back from Europe, where he had been for 15 months, having taken part in the D-Day Invasion.

Arnold arrived in New York on the Queen Mary June 30. Another son, Sgt. Allan C. Lindsey Jr., is still in Germany. And his son Duane is somewhere in the Pacific, not having been heard from since last December. Pfc. Ralph Crockett Lindsey, is at Chamham Field, Georgia.

"I enjoy The Courier-Gazette so much," writes Mrs. A. C. Lindsey of 506 Washington street, Braintree, Mass., conveying the above interesting information. "I keep in touch with all the local news, and the whereabouts of 'The Boys' in service. Especially the boys of the friends I once knew in Rockland. My prayer is that all these boys, and mine may soon return, and we can be families again and peace will reign all over the world."

Pvt. Hugh C. Athearn, 24, son of Mrs. Eva Winchenbach and Maurice Athearn has returned home after serving four years and eight months. He was in the invasion of D-Day and has also been in battles in Normandy, Northern France, Ardennes, and Central Europe. He received his honorable discharge July 7 at Fort Devens.

Wants Real Peace

Aim Of New Organization Of Which Camden Man Is Vice President

Americans United for World Organization is made up of many thousands of Americans, big and little, who want the kind of a peace that will prevent future wars. The aim of the organization is to mobilize public opinion in backing an effective World Organization with automatic power to enforce peace. Adequate power for the United States representative is an immediate objective. If enough of us want the right kind of peace organization we can have it. Our government needs to know what we want. Our Senate should have full knowledge of the will of the citizens.

The Honorary State Chairman is Kenneth C. M. Sills, president of Bowdoin College. Henry Merritt Farnum, Lewiston, war manufacturer and lawyer was elected State president. One of the vice presidents is Edward J. Cornelius of Camden, in charge of the individual membership drive and a member of the National Committee.

In addition to support of the San Francisco charter, Americans United is committed to public discussion, analysis, and support of the Bretton Woods agreements, congressional delegation of power to the U. S. representative on the security council, the treaty to provide armed contingents available to the security council, an analysis of agriculture, aviation, and specific trade agreements.

Public participation is strongly urged supporting the charter in the campaign immediately ahead, and the long range program of progress by experience, discussion, and analysis of the charter of the United Nations and related issues through the critical years ahead.

A state speakers bureau will furnish forums and similar programs upon request of any civic group. In addition, an individual membership drive is underway, the members to join any local branches of Americans United, and to support programs for community public meetings. Individuals, communities and organizations desiring to participate, and seeking additional information, should contact one of the officers immediately. Community and branch meetings will be undertaken wherever a public response is stimulated.

SWAN'S ISLAND

Miss Rita Zavis of Brookline, Mass., is visiting Francis M. Turner and his daughter, Mrs. John P. Storey at their Summer home at Atlantic.

Seth Stockbridge

The island was saddened Saturday night by the death of one of its lifelong citizens. Seth Stockbridge, who had been in ill health for several years. He was born Sept. 24, 1872 in Atlantic and had always been an active citizen in the town affairs and also in the Odd Fellows.

He was married to Sylvia Trask to whom were born two children, Carlisle who resides in Henniker, N. H., and Beatrice who resides in Boston, but was here to assist in the care of her father in his last illness. Mr. Stockbridge is survived also by two sisters, Mrs. Hattie Joyce of Portland and Mrs. Etta Joyce of Atlantic, also a granddaughter, Nancy Stockbridge.

Services were held Monday at the residence, Rev. Carl F. Hall paying a fine tribute to him. The Odd Fellows conducted the beautiful committal service. The quantities of lovely flowers and large attendance at the funeral testified to the esteem in which he was held by the island friends and also by the Summer residents to whom he and Mrs. Stockbridge catered for several years.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our darling son and brother Cpl. William H. Shourt, who died in the service of his country July 21, 1944, Guam.

He bade no one last farewell.
He said goodbye to none.
A dear heart that ceased to beat
And suddenly he was gone.
The blow was great, the shock severe.
We little thought the end was near.
And only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
Do not ask us if we miss him;
Oh! there's such a vacant place,
Oh! we think we hear his footsteps
And we see his smiling face.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Years of sadness often flow,
Memory keeps him ever near us
Since he left us one year ago.

Mother, Sister and Brother

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of Herbert Seaman who passed away July 14, 1941.
Today recalls sad memories
Of a dear one gone to rest;
Our hearts still ache with sadness
Our eyes shed many a tear.
God knows how much we miss you
You left behind some broken hearts
That loved you so sincere.
That never will be healed
Forget you, Herbie dear.

Mother, Father, Brothers, Sister

Until the shadows from this earth are cast.
Until He gathers in His sheaves at last.
Until the twilight gloom be overpast—
Good-night! Good night! Good night!

Whereas, the members of Weymouth Grange No. 565 realize their deep loss in the death of our Sister King, and deeply sympathize with the family.

WASHINGTON—AND YOU

By Margaret Chase Smith

Washington, July 11—A man and his wife have written me asking how they could get the niece, the daughter of a widowed sister, who died recently, into the United States from Italy. It is their intention to adopt the child and bring her up as their daughter and an American citizen. Until recently nothing could be done as there was no transportation from Italy, but now a plan is being adopted. It is hoped that some transportation can be arranged but it will be a serious problem for some months.

The procedure for the aunt and uncle to file affidavits with the American Consul in Italy to show their ability to care for the niece so that she will not become a public charge. These must be sent with a letter to the Consul setting forth their reasons for wanting to bring her to this country and their plans for her education. The Consuls at Naples and Palermo are ready to consider these cases and there will be another at Genoa a little later. The papers should be sent to the Consul nearest to where the child is located and if they are in order and approved, she will be ready to come to America as soon as transportation can be arranged.

Many inquiries have come to me from railroad men concerning amendment to the Railroad Retirement Act which would increase pensions for those who retired previous to the enactment of the Act of 1937.

Fourteen bills have been presented so far this session suggesting amendments. No action has been taken on any of them except H. R. 1362. Hearings have been held on this bill which is pending before the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.

The original Act of 1934 did not affect these pensioners but the 1937 amendment covered them on the basis of the pension they were then receiving or such as were provided by the private pension system of the road for which they worked. These as a whole were very low. H. R. 1362 does not provide an increase but an amendment has been suggested to it by the Brotherhoods which would increase annuities 10 per cent.

The Railroad Retirement Act is planned to be self-sustaining. The funds are raised from an employer-employee tax. The present rate is 6 1/2%—the employees share 3 1/4%. The bill would raise this to 7 1/4% and further increases are scheduled so that the rate by 1952 and thereafter would be 12 1/2%.

It is sometimes argued that the amendment, proposing 10% increase in annuities, is over generous to

Former Rockland Man Commanded Last Ship Torpedoed In Battle Of The Atlantic

Capt. Charles E. Prior of Belfast, formerly of Rockland was commander of the Black Point, last vessel of U. S. Merchant Marine, torpedoed by a German submarine in the battle of the Atlantic, three days before V-E Day. Twelve of his men lost their lives when the stern was blown off the vessel near Point Judith.

July 5 marked the 20th anniversary of Capt. Prior's going to sea. He was born in Boston June 2, 1906, and came to Rockland, when only three weeks old. He attended Rockland schools along with Dr. Saul R. Polinsner and Donald G. Crie, and one of his teachers was Mrs. Lena Thorndike Draper, who now lives in Canton, Mass. His mother, Mrs. Eva Strout, died in Rockland in November, 1943.

Vessels on which Capt. Prior served included the "Camden," the "Cornish," craft of the Sprague Coal Company vessels running southward and to South America. Capt. Prior, who got his master's papers in 1937, made his home in his younger days with Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert M. Clark of Rockland. He was employed for some time by the Acme Radio Company of Cambridge, Mass.

Capt. Prior was married to Grace Nelson of Winterport and they have one child, George, 12 years of age. The Priors formerly lived in Medfield, Mass., going to Belfast three years ago after buying a house at 25 Bayview street.

Proof that the submarine which sank the Black Point was taken care of by the Navy, was the recovery of the submarine commander's cap, which was among the articles exhibited on the day of the final inquiry.

Capt. Prior has recently taken command of a new Liberty ship. He is best known to his many Rockland friends as "Roy," from his middle name which was Elroy.

Among the survivors of the late Pfc. Vincent M. Palma is a sister, Mrs. Anna M. Leo, whose maiden name of Palma was inadvertently published in the recent obituary of the soldier killed on Okinawa.

Erwin M. Spear, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Spear of 64 Rankin street, has returned to New Hampton School, at New Hampton, N. H., for the Summer semester. He is preparing for college under the accelerated plan of three semesters a year.

Is Worth The Loss

Pfc. E. H. Tyler So Regards His Experiences in the War Period

Caserta, Italy, June 20.
(Letter from Pfc. E. H. Tyler to Dr. Blake B. Annis):
"Two full years have slipped by since I last saw good old U.S.A. territory (native territory). However, I am convinced that the two years' experience is worth the two years' loss.

"I am a teletype operator here at the ex-King's Palace at Caserta, Italy. Maybe you've heard of the Palace. It is AFHQ MTMOUSA (which means Allied Force Headquarters, Mediterranean Theatre of Operations for United States Army). It was in this building that Graziani surrendered all the German troops in northern Italy in early May.

"Now I have a sad tale to tell you. In my last letter I told you I was sending that same date an alabaster elephant for your collection. I did have the elephant for you but am sorry to say that in packing the confounded beast I broke off his trunk; this made me so d—n mad that I threw your animal against the tent pole and disintegrated him. I am looking for another for you and this time I promise that no harm will befall him.

"Well, despite the fact that I am a two-year veteran of the North

Rev. Jason Francis Thurston of Rockport was a recent visitor at meeting of the Ingraham Bible Class of the First Baptist Church. Mr. Jason is now preaching at Alton, N. Wesley Thurston, Sr., is a Rockland postman and his grandson, Jason W. Thurston Jr., is in the service.

The Knox County Red Cross will hold its annual meeting at the Rockland office at 7.30 p. m. Wednesday, July 18, for the election of officers and other vital business. A large attendance is desired. Every donor is a member.

Africa and Europe campaign it looks like the army has a cruise to the Pacific all lined up for me. Pretty darn thoughtful of them, don't you think?

"Well, Doc, if you refuse to mention 'The Tyler Bill' I will have to let it go for now. Thanks for being so big-hearted.

"Give my regards to your friends and patients and I'll see you again someday."

SAN FRANCISCO AT ITS BEST

For Charter Sunday, July 22

When the Huns were bombing and besieging Leningrad, Stalingrad and Moscow, and our minds and hearts were clouded with the doubts and fears as to the outcome of the war, the President said with his unshaken confidence: "We will win the war, and in the Victory we will not seek vengeance, but an International Order in which the Spirit of Christ will rule the hearts of men and nations." In his Christmas Eve talk, 1944, he said "God bless us all and keep us strong to keep the Faith, that we may fight for a better day for humankind, here and everywhere."

Here we gather Sovereign Nations, Grieved by fears and common needs; Circling Continents and oceans, Faith transcending human creeds; Spirit of Goodwill and Friendship Brotherhood and Lasting Peace; Hearts aflame and hearts united. Voices crying—wars must cease.

Hark! It is a New Age calling, Trumpets sounding loud and clear; Science, Music, Art and Culture, Wisdom of the sage and seer; Calling to us all together, Build the world we know should be; Love, the mind and honest labor, Making all men glad and free.

Gone the past with all its sorrows, Hatreds, battlefields and blood; Hail the Dawn! Our hopes fulfilling, Era of man's greatest good; Up! Rejoice! Ye lands and peoples, For the world is born again; From the Skies to earth descending, Echoes back the grand Amen.

God of Nations we would own Thee, Fateful this momentous hour; Thine the Kingdom we are seeking, Thine the Glory and the Power; All together, toiling, building, Honor we the Heaven-sent Creed, Christ of Calvary revealing, Sacrificial Love and Deed.

MAINE IN WASHINGTON

(From the Office of Owen Brewster, U. S. S.)

Increasing concern over meat shortages with the sharp seasonal increase in our population found reflection in many other areas throughout the North and Middle-western States. A meeting of interested Senators and Representatives resulted in the appointment of a Committee with Senator Owen Brewster of Maine as chairman and a conference with the OPA representatives brought assurance of prompt action to afford some measure of relief.

Selection of January, February and March as the base period for rationing left Maine and New England in general with very inadequate provision because of the vast increase in our population during July, August and September. The revised order will afford relief along these lines allowing a shift in the base period.

One irate constituent was disturbed by the suggestion that our rationing was being increased to provide for our Summer visitors oblivious of the fact that without this increase everyone concerned would be obliged to scramble for their proportionate share of half a loaf or less. Any increase in the quota will not be labeled for any particular person or group but will simply increase the supply in that area and it will then depend upon the usual distributors to see to its equitable allocation and the year-round customers will undoubtedly receive their proper consideration.

The order is designed to allow the usual channels of distribution to increase their quotas and allocations according to the seasonal pattern of one year ago and the national distributors have indicated their readiness to cooperate and assured all concerned here that meat from outside points would start rolling toward Maine this past week. Meanwhile, local slaughterers were given increased quotas under the new law by the Secretary of Agriculture and petitions looking to this increase may be filed at any time.

Fishing and Farming

The age-old controversy along the coast of Maine as to the dividing line between fishing and farming has been revived by the bill introduced this past week by Senator Brewster and Congressman Fellows to declare "fishing as farming" for purposes of OPA regulations in order to give to fishermen the benefits of the provisions of the new law requiring regulations and limitations on prices of food products to

Fred E. Burkett

Death Of Prominent Union Man Who Served Four Terms in State Legislature

The death in Union last Sunday night, of former State Senator Fred E. Burkett marked the passing of one of the best known and most influential residents of Northern Knox County. He had been failing in health steadily for several years, and about three weeks ago his condition assumed a critical phase.

Mr. Burkett lived beyond the four-score mark, years of activity of which had meant much for the development of the town in which he was born and where his entire life was destined to be spent.

The deceased was born Oct. 31, 1864, son of Oscar A. and F. Ellen (Dunton) Burkett, and in his early days taught school in Union and Warren. Eventually he opened a store as a bicycle sale and repair shop; developing it into a hardware store which became one of the best known business establishments on Union Common. He served many years as agent of the Georges Valley Railroad, and was treasurer of the telephone and water companies.

His interest in Union's municipal affairs was very keen and he served the town as first selectman and tax collector for many years.

In the Legislature sessions of 1929 and 1931 he served as Representative from the Union, Warren, Washington and Rockport Class, and four years after the completion of his before entering the Navy. The young couple were attended by Jasper P. Lombardo and Mrs. Marie Reed of Rockland. Mr. and Mrs. Dodge will make their future home in Miami, Fla., where Mr. Dodge is stationed.

In the Legislature sessions of 1929 and 1931 he served as Representative from the Union, Warren, Washington and Rockport Class, and four years after the completion of his House membership, Knox County elected him to the State Senate, re-electing him in 1937. In both branches of Legislature he served on important committees, and became one of the State's best known orators. He was outspoken in his views—views which largely prevailed—and the voters always knew where to find him. Aggressiveness of this sort brought him not infrequently into sharp contests, but his popularity with the electorate almost uniformly brought him out a winner. His friendship counted for much, as it could always be depended upon.

Mr. Burkett was an Odd Fellow, Mason and member of the Eastern Star. For many years he was a leading worker for the North Knox Fair Association.

Mr. Burkett was married March 2, 1886, to Lina M. Upham, and their golden wedding anniversary in 1936 was an important social event. The death of Mrs. Burkett Oct. 7, 1941, severed a domestic relationship which had been an exceptionally happy one. Mr. Burkett had spent the last two winters in St. Petersburg, Fla.

To Mr. and Mrs. Burkett were born two children—Franz U. Burkett, now a resident of Portland and Bernice (Burkett) Payson, who died in 1937. The son quickly arose to a position of prominence in his adopted city, and served in both branches of the Maine Legislature. It was a matter of keen satisfaction to the father that he was able to round out his political career by serving in the State Senate simultaneously with his son. Franz U. Burkett later served as the State's Attorney General, and has frequently been advocated as a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination.

Mr. Burkett is survived by four grandchildren—Mrs. Barbara (Payson) Morine of Union, Captain Curtis M. Payson of the U. S. Air Service, who is stationed at Long Beach, Calif.; 1st Lieut. Carleton Payson, who is serving with the Infantry in Italy; and Ann Burkett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franz U. Burkett of Portland. The deceased was justly proud of his grandsons' military achievements, and followed with keenest satisfaction their rapid promotions in the service. Captain Payson flew from California to attend the funeral.

Mr. Burkett is also survived by four great-grandchildren—Sandra, Fred and Philip, children of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Morine of Union, and Kenneth, son of Lieut. and Mrs. Carleton Payson.

There was a large outpouring of citizens at the funeral Wednesday afternoon, among those representing the State being Earl Hayes, State Personnel Director. The room in which the casket lay was banked with floral emblems. Rev. Mr. Doughty officiated. The bearers were Clarence Leonard, Robert M. McKinley, Arthur Robbins and Harold Fossett. Interment was in the village cemetery.

Always Two Sides"

plying To The Charge That A Soldier Was Being "Two-Timed"

Rockland, July 12. — of The Courier-Gazette:— read the article on "Two-Timed Soldier." There are always two sides to a story. I know of a case where the husband was sent over-

Three months passed without word from him as to where or how he was, until the Red Cross notified and he was asked to appear. A man cares no more for his than that—well, there's a man. For 4-Fs, there are many of them. I believe that no American would be willing to be classified as 4-F if there were any possibility to prevent it. I have known who are 4-F and they are sensitive about it.

It is today, sure folks cannot be going all the time, on what I've seen of rubrics. Sometimes people can see only one side of a case, but there are always two sides to every problem. That others will look at both sides for when a person "two-timed" there must be a reason. End of Soldiers and Soldiers'

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

You have noted clouds like foam. When seagulls float with breezes. Where winds wait gay as zephyrs comb. Our esthetic thoughts and tease Them into bath clothes for gay sport; Near crags edging crystal seas. Alone the sandy beach we pass Time, as greenest waving grass Pines about our limbs, swaying Waves upturned lost treasure From sandy graves, in measured rote, That sing melodiously as we float.

Girls, don't think you can start any breach of promise suits in Florida any more, for that law has been killed in the lovely State with the other laws of savages.

One wonders if the Japs vary their diet of rice by eating their words? They do that quite often.

Summer Dreaming

You have noted clouds like foam. When seagulls float with breezes. Where winds wait gay as zephyrs comb. Our esthetic thoughts and tease Them into bath clothes for gay sport; Near crags edging crystal seas. Alone the sandy beach we pass Time, as greenest waving grass Pines about our limbs, swaying Waves upturned lost treasure From sandy graves, in measured rote, That sing melodiously as we float.

So the Nazi had plans all made to reduce the United States to an agricultural and slave nation. They formed this plan in 1941. They had also planned to return to Germany and then on to Asia all Scandinavian and German persons, to settle and farm the plains of Asia. "Nice Going!"

It's about time for a new novel by Elizabeth Ogilvie, isn't it? Maine likes this author.

Rockland should have a Poetry Club, at least a bit of fellowship along that line. We have a number who can write in Knox County or it might be made a Knox County affair. Who will organize this for us?

Ernest Johnson, Rockland Musician Playing In Band At Manila

Ernest E. Johnson, son of Mrs. Marguerite T. Johnson of Rockland, well known hereabouts as a pianist, has recently been promoted from sergeant to staff sergeant, according to a letter received this week, sent from Manila June 27. S.Sgt. Johnson enclosed a picture of the military band in which he plays the bass drum. S.Sgt. Johnson wrote, in part:

"I'm in Manila. We are stationed on the site of an old school that the Japs burned down, and it's right in the heart of the city. Not bad huh? Staff sergeant is the second highest rating in the band, so naturally there are certain things I gotta do. I'm still arranging but not so much. Can't get the opportunity. Too much rehearsing going on and that distracts me.

"I've met several fine Filipino friends, among them radio and screen stars. I'm real chummy with the most popular male singer here. His name is Eddie San Jose. I have met several band leaders and all sorts of musicians."

Referring to prices, S.Sgt. Johnson said: "If only prices were not so high. Now, they are really up in the sky. Ten times pre-war prices! I hope they leave me here till the end of this war, or until they decide to send me home. I don't want to move again. Let me stay in civilization is what I say!"

S.Sgt. Johnson's wife and son, Guy Eugene, are at the home of Mrs. Johnson's parents in New York, for the present.

Story Of Noah Emery

Descendants of Whom Are Numbered Among the Residents of Owl's Head

As these thoughts flooded the mind of Noah Emery, he brought out the "authenticated copy" and again those immortal words were read.

"A truly remarkable document. It is the cornerstone of our country's foundation. It contains the very life blood of our democracy. And we will defend it and maintain it with our lives. Many are giving their life blood to make us a nation."

"Those of us whose names are on the Provincial Records may yet swing as traitors. John Hancock has desired each of the United States to put this Declaration, with the names of the Members of Congress subscribing it, on record. I wonder how I can best do it?"

His glance met the bottle of red ink on his desk. It glowed like a ruby in the westerling rays of the sun.

"Red! Red for courage, red for the bloody tracks of New Hampshire men who followed Arnold through the Wilderness of Maine! Red for the New Hampshire men who fell at Bunker's Hill! I will write it in Red Ink!" Noah Emery reached for Volume IX of the "Original Province Journals of New Hampshire." He turned to a blank page, page 141, he began to write.

"When in the course of human events"—(the pen travels on and on, engrossing those compelling phrases for posterity).

"Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren, we have warned them, we must, therefore acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace, friends."

"We therefore the Representatives of the United States of America in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do in the name and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be free and independent States."

He writes the concluding words on Page 144. You may see it today in the Historical Building at Concord!

With the final stroke of his pen, Noah Emery, grandson of Deacon Daniel Emery (one of the "Foundation Brethren" of the First Congregational Church in Berwick, Maine) kneels. His great heart is poured out in a petition for his loved ones—

"and for him who is to be the Ruler of these United Colonies and those in authority under him, grant them wisdom—"

The sun is setting in a blaze of glory. The river reflects the glory of the sky. The grandest day in the life of Noah Emery, is ending with a promise of yet grander days to come.

BOOTHBAY PLAYHOUSE
Mark Reed, author of "Yes, My Darling Daughter," Broadway's famous hit of 1940, entertained the entire company of the Boothbay Playhouse in his beautiful home at Spruce Point Wednesday night. The occasion was the opening of "Yes, My Darling Daughter," under the direction of Sherwood Keith, at the Playhouse.

Tuesday night, the Playhouse company gave a guest rehearsal for staff and enlisted personnel of the Brunswick Naval Air Base. The rehearsal met with such success that Mr. Reed complimented the cast on the excellence of their performance. Although the evening was devoted to the members of the Boothbay Playhouse company, many other guests

Please Notice The Gangway Aft

In Tuesday's Courier-Gazette was presented a picture of S.S. Camden. It could be definitely so identified because when built her main deck was open all the way aft from the gangway as shown in that picture. Later a section was housed in for operational reasons as shown above. The Belfast was built as above. Some difference in the ventilators on the hurricane decks also differentiated the ships.

After leaving Rockland, the Camden and Belfast became Comet and Arrow of the Colonial Line and were later taken over by the government. Both had all their houses removed down to the main deck and were remodelled for war service.

Capt. Ross Eaton, master of the huge ocean going tug Margo Moran saw the ships with nothing above their main decks except the engine hatches as they lay in Brooklyn and is authority for the word that the Camden was lost in a convoy on her first trip across, an enemy casualty.

In the rebuttal comes a widely quoted steamboat authority from New York who says both ships, remodelled as mentioned, are in service today in the middle Pacific. Information please.

SERMONETTE

MEASURE OF GREATNESS

Is the measure of your greatness the greatness of political power? of earthly wealth? or the greatness of the nobility of soul? Christ was great in the presence of Pilate. Pilate was great because he was the sixth Roman Procurator of Judea.

Christ was great in the hour of his arrest. Caiaphas was great because he was the High Priest, Caiaphas asked Jesus of His disciples and of His doctrine. Jesus answered him, "I ever taught in the synagogue and in the temple. In these places the Jews resort, and in secret I have said nothing. Why askest thou me? Ask them which heard me."

What Jesus was telling these officials was that it was for them to secure the evidence. They knew this well, but they knew there was no such evidence. However, they were intent on something they could not secure under the Jewish law but might under the Roman law. They were not anxious to prove Jesus' guilt but to secure his death, so they led Him into the great judgment hall in the magnificent palace, built by Herod the great; but the Jews did not enter. So Pilate was forced to go out to them and said, "What accusation bring ye against this man?"

They answered, "If he were not a malefactor we would not have delivered Him up to thee." So Pilate entered again into the impressive Court of Judgment and sent for Jesus, and these two men stood in each other's presence—Pilate in his beautiful robes and Jesus in the simple garb of a Jewish citizen.

Pilate had no evidence to convict, but he exercised the power, the political power of his high office, to scourge and kill. He had Jesus flogged, as English sailors used to be flogged through the fleet, and hung, to the yard arm. Jesus was scourged and hung from a cross—this in the year 26 A. D.

There was nothing great about Pilate but his high office, and this he abused so. Vitellius sent him bound to Rome before his Emperor. Some say he committed suicide in 38 A. D. and others that Nero beheaded him. His name accursed through the ages. Jesus died, but his name marks his eternal greatness.

What is the measure of your greatness? Power, wealth or nobility of soul? You answer.

From Ring School

Many More Skilled Nurses Added By Recent Graduation

The first group to complete the new course in attendant nursing at the Ring School graduated at Ham-bury Hall, Ring Sanatorium and Hospital, Arlington Heights, Mass. This course is an accelerated wartime training embracing the regular curriculum of the Ring School of Psychiatric Nursing.

Captain Lillian V. Salsman, ANC, Staff, U. S. Army Nurses School, Fort Devens, formerly Director of Nurses, Ring Sanatorium and Hospital was guest of honor.

Dr. Francis H. Sleeper, assistant commissioner, Massachusetts Department of Mental Health delivered the address. The diplomas were presented by Hallam T. Ring, president, and the pins were presented by Virginia G. Welch, R. N. of the U. S. Veterans Facility at Togus.

Dr. Sleeper stated that in spite of the terrible holocaust sweeping the world the nurses who are training at this time are most fortunate because of the great advances in medicine that have been made during the recent period. He said further that those who do not enter the grand career of Army and Navy Nurses have a very urgent need on the home front. "Much as we would like to, all of us cannot enter the armed forces. It is just as urgent, however, that the civilian population be cared for as the members of the armed forces. The armed forces cannot survive without powerful home support."

"Do not forget that the happiness and will to fight of our fighting men depends in no small measure on the knowledge that their loved ones, those for whom they are fighting at home, are being well cared for. Those of you who elect to serve on the home front are doing your duty just as much as those who enter the armed forces."

Among the graduates were Eleanor Bourget of Bath and Mary Lindsey of Houlton.

Question—Does the Bible really say that God is immortal?

Answer—Yes. Read 1 Timothy 1:17: "Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever."

Q.—Are we not supposed to pray in church and not at home?

A.—In 1 Timothy 2:8 the apostle Paul writes: "I will therefore that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting."

Q.—Don't you think some folks make too much of the Bible?

A.—In reply we read Psalm 138:2: "I will worship toward Thy holy temple, and praise Thy name for Thy lovingkindness and for Thy truth: for Thou hast magnified Thy Word above all Thy name." If God so magnifies His Word, should we not give it the greatest reverence?

Q.—How can I know that my sins are forgiven?

A.—By meeting God's conditions of forgiveness. "But if we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ His Son cleanseth us from all sin. . . . If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." 1 John 1:7,9.

Q.—What do you think about gossiping?

A.—The Bible says that our words are an index to our character. Matthew 12:34: "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." And by our words we shall be condemned in the judgment. "For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned." Verse 37. Tale-bearing or unkind gossip is forbidden. "Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment: thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honour the person of the mighty; but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbour." Leviticus 19:15. "The words of a talebearer are wounds." Proverbs 26:22. "Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out: so where there is no talebearer, the strife ceaseth." Verse 20. All our words are known to God. "For there is not a word in my tongue, but, lo, O Lord, thou knowest it altogether." Psalm 139:4.

Agricultural Notes

Austin Sproul of South Bristol is planning to carry over quite a number of old hens for breeders. He feels that the older birds produce better chicks. At the present time all his eggs are going to hatcheries. He keeps Rhode Island Reds.

Bill Hardy of Hope reports that if it had not been for his buck rake last week he would have had a lot of wet hay. As it was he filled his barn floor with all the hay he had raked before a shower came up in the afternoon. He did this all alone.

In checking the orchards in Knox and Lincoln counties the apple crop is going to be very light. Some of the men have not applied the apple fruit fly spray as there were so few apples.

The blueberry growers of this area will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. July 12, at the State of Maine Blueberry Growers Association building in West Rockport to discuss the situation for the coming season. All growers, whether members of the Association or not, are invited. Ted Vickery, assistant farm labor agent, for Knox and Lincoln and Waldo counties will be present to discuss the present labor situation.

With The Homes

Joyce Johnson, home demonstration agent, gave a canning demonstration to the Appleton Farm Bureau July 3. Miss Johnson showed how to can strawberries by the hot pack method in the boiling water bath using one-fourth cup of sugar to a pint of fruit, which is the amount allotted by the O. P. A. She also demonstrated the drying of spinach in the pressure cooker.

The White Oak 4-H Club of North Warren met July 5 at the home of its leader, Mrs. Hazel Gammon. Miss Johnson showed the girls how to can peaches and emphasized the big supply of peaches available this year that should be canned. The peak week of supply on the markets is expected to be July 15-21.

The home demonstration agent showed how to can tomatoes at the meeting of the Warren Wonder Workers 4-H Club of Warren held in Odd Fellows Hall. Nine Club members, their leader, Mrs. Edna Moore, and three adults were present.

Five girls and two boys, who were enrolled through the schools in food for victory projects, attended a demonstration on canning tomatoes given by Joyce Johnson at Mrs. Lina Bartlett's home in East Washington.

Rockport Farm Bureau met June 21 with Mrs. Mary Spear for the meeting on "Lighten the Laundry Load-Washing." Mrs. Helen Brewer, home management leader, demonstrated how to make bleach water, test the hardness of water, remove stains, and gave many suggestions on making wash day easier.

Purple Heart Awarded Col. Lyle Meyer—Has Flown 20 Missions

Malabang, P. I. (Delayed)—Despite bomb fragment wounds which he suffered last March during a Jap air attack on Luzon, Col. Lyle H. Meyer of Deer Isle, continued administrative and flying duties without interruption. He has been awarded the Purple Heart and a commendation from Admiral Nimitz for meritorious performance of duties during a period of Marine air operations on Emirau.

The commendation states that he displayed "exceptional skill in the planning for the occupation and establishment of an advanced air base. Through his initiative and administrative ability, Col. Meyer was largely responsible for the expeditious manner in which the camp was developed and to the efficient administration of the command to which he was attached."

Col. Meyer has flown 20 combat missions in support of Army troops clearing Japs from Luzon and Mindanao and is credited with scoring hit on a previously damaged enemy ship in Manila Harbor. The ship was being used as a gun emplacement.

Although he just completed his first tour of duty Col. Meyer has been in the Marine Corps since 1929. He won his wings at Pensacola, Fla., in 1930. He has served in an executive capacity at Quantico, Va., and El Toro, Calif. He is a graduate of Carlton College, Northfield, Minn.

There was an exhibit of gifts suggestions, including articles to be crocheted such as aprons, dollies, dish cloths, holders and pin cushions. Luncheon sets, aprons, and shoe bags made from printed grain bags were displayed. Holders and stuffed toys were also included. The members examined the gift suggestions, made patterns of some of the items, and worked on gifts.

Hollywood hair stylists agree that, regardless of whether a woman wears her hair up or down this season, she must look feminine. Another point on which they concur is that the long bob must go. In fact, most of them like to think it has gone, and since they started the fashion of the long, floating bob—floating on the shoulders, floating in the wind or, at dinner floating into her neighbor's soup—who has a better right than the people who create hair styles for motion picture stars to toss the long bob right out the window? Thus writes our Hollywood correspondent, Franc Dillon, who adds: "Every woman can change her hair, she should experiment, trying first one way and then another until she finds a style that is both flattering and smart."
